

Bryan Howell Design

graphic design & illustration extraordinaire!

About (abridged)

I am a huge fan of things of the past and enjoy studying the histories of old theme parks, beach towns, and old neighborhoods. I also enjoy the modern world of video games, as well as a good documentary, old homes and restoration, swimming, building things, watching movies, biking and rock climbing, collecting children's books, teaching and helping those in need.

Mission (abridged)

My ultimate dream as an illustrator and designer is to create characters and their adventures for children of all ages to enjoy. As a builder and designer I want to design and build theater sets where I can see my designs in life size proportions. But above all, I want to design things that both make my clients happy, successful and satisfied, while feeling excited and accomplished about the things that I have done for them and myself.
